Research the Artist

Georgia O'Keeffe
Modern Artist

- Born on 15th November 1887 in Wisconsin, United States.
- At the age of ten, Georgia O'Keeffe knew she wanted to be an artist and she started to have lessons with Sara Mann, a watercolour painter. She was inspired by the scenery of New Mexico.
- As she got older, O'Keeffe started to lose her central vision but she continued to produce artwork.
- Her most well-known work features objects enlarged and painted as if viewed through a magnifying glass.

Shape Drawing

I can draw these shapes freehand.

I know that shadow is created by blocking light.

Pencil Gradients

A B grade pencil means the core has more graphite, and will make a bolder, darker line, and also be a little smudgier than a light pencil.

An H grade pencil means the core has more clay, and will make a lighter, finer line, and will be less smudgy than a dark pencil.
